Working Experience

- St. George Group of School, Ogun State. (2019–2020)
Computer Operator

As the Computer Operator of one of the leading schools in the city, I manage the daily operation of the school's digital and administrative systems. I handle data entry, record management, and the smooth processing of students' academic information. I ensure that computers, printers, and other ICT tools are functioning properly, providing technical support to staff when needed. I also assist with preparing documents, reports, and digital materials used for school administration, examinations, and communication. My role helps keep the school's operations organized, efficient, and technology-driven.
- Pardee Food Nigeria Ltd, Ogun State (2020–2022)

I monitor the condition of production tools, assist in identifying faults, and ensure that machines operate safely and efficiently. My role also includes reporting technical issues to senior engineers, helping with preventive maintenance schedules, and maintaining a clean, organized work environment that supports consistent product quality and safety.

- Sakafaz Nig. Enterprises, Ogun State. (2014–2017)
Graphic Design/ Press

I create visually compelling designs for branding, advertising, and print production, including banners, posters, roll-ups, stickers, product labels, and promotional materials. I manage design projects from concept to final output, ensuring accuracy, creativity, and brand consistency.

As a large-format operator, I handle the setup, calibration, and operation of industrial printers, laminators, and cutting machines. I oversee color management, print quality control, and finishing processes to ensure every job meets professional production standards. My combined design and technical skills help deliver high-quality prints that satisfy both clients and production deadlines.

- Destiny Large format Printing, Ogun State. (2018–2020)
Graphic Design/Machine Operator

I work in a general printing firm where I handle major state-related printing projects and deliver high-quality graphic design for a wide range of clients. My responsibilities include creating professional layouts for books, brochures, banners, official documents, event materials, and government-related prints.

I coordinate production from design to final output, ensuring accuracy, timely delivery, and compliance with required standards. I work closely with the team to manage large-scale printing tasks, oversee quality control, and maintain smooth workflow for both public and private sector projects.

- Glorious Print, Ogun State. (2020–2020)
Graphic Design

I serve as a professional graphic designer in a printing and marketing firm, where I develop creative visual concepts that support brand promotion and customer engagement. I design marketing materials such as flyers, banners, social media creatives, product packaging, corporate branding assets, and campaign visuals.

I collaborate closely with the marketing team to produce designs that communicate clearly, attract attention, and align with client goals. I also ensure that every design is print-ready, maintaining color accuracy, high resolution, and proper layout for different printing formats. My work helps clients strengthen their brand presence and achieve effective marketing results.

- Dabsally Engineering Company, Ogun State. (2021–2023)
Graphic Design/Computer Operator

I work as a graphic designer in an engineering company, creating visual materials that support technical communication, branding, and project documentation. I design presentations, reports, infographics, signage, safety posters, promotional materials, and digital assets used for company projects and client communication.

I translate complex engineering concepts into clear, visually appealing graphics that are easy for clients, stakeholders, and team members to understand. I also ensure brand consistency across all design materials while meeting strict project timelines and professional standards. My work helps enhance the company's image and improve the clarity of technical information.

- De Crown printing, Ikorodu Lagos. (2023–2024)
Graphic Design/Computer Operator

I work as a graphic designer in a printing firm that specializes in gift branding, marketing materials, and general printing services. I create customized designs for branded gifts such as mugs, T-shirts, souvenirs, gift boxes, and promotional items.

I also develop marketing designs including flyers, logos, banners, business cards, stickers, labels, and social media creatives. In addition, I oversee print preparation, ensuring every design is correctly formatted, color-balanced, and ready for high-quality production. My work supports both individual clients and businesses by delivering creative, well-executed designs that enhance branding and customer engagement.

- Ideyprint Print House, Lekki Lagos. (2024–till date)
Graphic Design/Computer Operator

With 5–6 years of solid experience in graphic design, I currently work in a reputable and popular printing company in Lekki, where I handle high-level creative and technical responsibilities. My role includes designing branding materials, marketing assets, and large-format productions for both corporate and government clients.

I manage state government printing projects, ensuring accuracy, professional presentation, and adherence to required standards. I also support oil and gas companies by creating clean, corporate-grade visuals, reports, promotional materials, and technical designs.

Alongside my design career, I work as a frontend developer, building modern, responsive websites with clean user interfaces. I combine creativity with technical skill, making me versatile across digital design, print production, and web development.

I am a dedicated and versatile creative professional with 5–6 years of experience across graphic design, printing, branding, and frontend development. I consistently deliver high-quality work, handle major projects with responsibility, and adapt quickly to new challenges. I am committed to continuous growth, excellence, and adding value to any team or organization I work with.

I also freelance, delivering high-quality design and web projects for clients across various industries. My experience reflects reliability, creativity, and the ability to handle both large-scale and specialized projects with confidence.
